

SACRED LOVE RANGE

What is Sacred Love? It is THE ultimate deep love of the divine in all of us; the frequency upon which we feel true compassion and love for all. There is an Archangel of Sacred Love, who is called Zaphkiel, and in turn, the Egyptian Goddess Hathor, is also associated with this most pure of all love vibrations. I was guided to make special new Gem Essences in order to create this particular Constellation. All are exceptionally powerful, and bring in three elements abundance (of everything) focus (allowing you to truly tap into your divine creativity) and joy (a higher vibration of “love”). These three aspects help you to attain a sense of bliss in all that you experience and to cut through blocks and barriers that have been holding you back, thus enabling you to truly tap into your divine self and true power.

SACRED LOVE RANGE

Only the High Vibration (higher frequency) Essences are used in the Sacred Love Constellation.

This is to help enable you to activate the Divine Love hidden deep within your core, gently removing self-imposed blocks and fears along the way that have been preventing you from attaining your highest potential and compassion for yourself as well as all others. This in turn can enable you to free yourself from negative patterns that have been holding you back from experiencing the best you could possibly experience in life in the truest and most purest of ways enabling you to step into your true power and creativity. Like all the constellations, Sacred Love consists of three core products:-

An Elixir, which is taken internally. The special combination of essences are infused with the vibration of Divine Assistance from the Archangel of Sacred Love, Zaphkiel, in order to activate the sublime spiritual wisdom, which is held deep within you. This in turn will help enable the acceleration of your own unique spiritual growth.

An Energy Spray to spray into your auric field enfold- ing you in the vibration of Divine Sacred Love and a Healing Cream, which can be used any- where and is gentle enough to use as a face cream. The Healing Cream and Energy Sprays have an intuitive blend of Rose Absolute; Geranium & Ylang Ylang, all of which are associated with the vibration of divine love.

SACRED LOVE RANGE

The Gem Essences used are:-

Larimar – is one of the “spiritual stones”. It opens us up to new dimensions; radiates divine love and peace; promoting tranquillity. It is empowering; dissolving boundaries that constrain our spiritual self, thus guiding our soul onto its true pathway in life. It facilitates angelic contact and enables communication with other realms. It facilitates the healing of past-life wounds around relationships or heart traumas. It helps to remove self-sabotaging behaviour, especially in the removal of guilt and fear from our inner selves, thus freeing us to experience the divine bliss of sacred love. It is an antidote to emotional extreme and is said to ameliorate bipolar disorders. It reconnects us to our divine sense of playfulness and joyful child-like energy.

Gold - has often been referred to as Master Healer as it is an excellent mineral for the purification of our physical bodies on all levels as well as being a stamina enhancer. It is said to symbolise the purity of our spiritual aspect - “Our I AM” Presence - by allowing us to both attain and maintain communion with the Divine within us – the true source of all beings. Gold is said to promote the capacity to “learn” new things and concepts, whilst eliminating any self-imposed feelings of inferiority or self reproach we may be harbouring.

Diamonds – are a symbol of purity. Their pure white light is said to bring your life into a cohesive whole.

They are also representative of wealth and are said to be one of the stones of manifestation; attracting abundance. They are also a protector against electromagnetic stress and thus a protection against mobile phones. As an amplifier of energy, they increase the energy of whatever they come into contact with and thus enhance the healing properties of other gem stones (including when used in elixirs). Diamonds encourage creativeness and also link the intellect to the higher mind, providing clarity and enlightenment, supporting the soul's aspirations and spiritual evolution.

Green Sapphire - improves both inner and outer vision as well as dream recall. It stimulates the heart chakra, encouraging loyalty, fidelity and integrity. Like all sapphires, it focuses and calms the mind, releasing unwanted thoughts and mental tensions, bringing in a sense of peace and serenity in its stead. It enhances compassion and a greater understanding of the frailties and unique qualities of others. It encourages us to be more respectful of other people's belief systems. It brings prosperity, attracting gifts of all kinds and trust that our lives can be turned round for the better.

Lapis Lazuli – stimulates enlightenment; enhances dream work and stimulates personal and spiritual power. It facilitates the reduction of stress and brings peace and serenity into the body as a result. Lapis Lazuli recognises psychic attack and blocks it, sending the energy back to its source.

SACRED LOVE RANGE

It enhances the power of the spoken word and is believed to reverse curses or dis-ease caused by refraining from speaking out in the past. It harmonises us on all levels – physically; emotionally; mentally and spiritually. It encourages us to take charge of our life, linking us to our own inner knowing; enabling us to speak our truth with compassion for others. It links us to the divine – the Source – enabling us to dissolve any martyrdom-like tendencies or suffering. As a gem essence it also dissolves emotional bondage, setting us free to be who we truly are and step into our own unique magnificence.

Amazonite – has powerful filtration abilities, blocking geopathic stress; absorbing microwaves and mobile phone emanations and protecting us from electromagnetic pollution. It also filters any information passing through our brains, combining it with our intuition. It is a very soothing stone, calming the brain and nervous system and aligning the physical body with the etheric, thus maintaining optimum health. It balances out our “yin and yang”, helping us to look at both sides of a problem or seeing both points of view, It is known to soothe emotional trauma, alleviating worry and fear, dispelling negativity and aggression. The elixir in particular is beneficial on all levels of consciousness and helps us to manifest universal love.

Rainbow Hematite – are stones of peace, joy, clarity and enlightenment. They are dispersers of fear. They bring in love from the divine; courage to step into your true power – the power from within; the power of Source; the power of “all that is” enabling you to become your “I Am” presence and come into your true greatness and joy.

Sodalite - improves contact and communication with others and oneself. It is phenomenal to use in group meditation as it enhances the transmission of thought waves to the whole. As an elixir, it brings peace, calm and clarity to the mind and encourages heart-centred thoughts and actions. It works particularly well with Lapis Lazuli, enhancing the powers and healing properties of this most precious stone. The sodalite used to make this elixir is difficult to tell apart from the Lapis Lazuli as it shares many of its features; hence why these particular stones work so effectively together to bring in the energy of divine, sacred love.
